The Central New York Land Trust is a local, donor-supported, non-profit organization that seeks to preserve and protect natural areas in order to provide our communities clean water, clean air, wildlife habitat and a chance to connect with the land.

By the Numbers:

- 48-year-old local non-profit land trust
  - 13 member board of directors
  - over 3,100 acres of protected land
- 48 distinct preserves across Central New York, including the Skaneateles Watershed area (drinking water source for city of Syracuse and surround area residents)
- Countless opportunities for families and individuals to connect with the land.

Donors are welcome to request detailed financial information about Central New York Land Trust from our office at 7 Fennell St., 2nd Floor, Skaneateles, NY 13152 or the NYS Attorney General's Charities Bureau, Attn: FOIL Officer, 120 Broadway, New York, NY 10271
